

There's a Life – Page 1

Music and Lyrics – Jon Buller

intro

||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :||

Oh...

Verse 1

D2                                    F    G    D2                                    C
I remember what they told me    I would never be alone
D2                                    F    G    D2    | D2
I had to trust it with everything in me
D2                                    F    G    D2                                    C
So naïve I believed it blindly    Without even a step
D2                                    F    G    E-7 D/F# | G    A    ||
Young faith in the words I thought were said    yeah

Chorus 1

D2    Asus                                    B-    G D    Asus                                    B- | C
There's a life you've been dreaming of, there's much more in store
D2    Asus                                    B-    G D    Asus                                    ||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :||
Of the life you've been dreaming of, that life could be yours

Verse 2

D2                                    F                                    G    D2                                    C
How could it be that I felt what they told me - I would never feel oh
D2                                    F    G    D2    | (drums)
A bitter cry arose within my heart
D2                                    F                                    G    D2                                    C
How come everyone who preaches hope seems inside to be dead
D2                                    F                                    G    E-7 D/F# | G    A    ||
Maybe I gotta live it on my own instead

Chorus 2

D2    Asus                                    B-    G D    Asus                                    B- | C
There's a life I've been dreaming of, there's much more in store
D2    Asus                                    B-    G D    Asus                                    ||:G D/F# | G D/F# | D2 | D2 :|| X3
Of the life I've been dreaming of, that life could be yours,

There's a Life – Page 2

Music and Lyrics – Jon Buller

Verse 3

D2                                    F                    G                    D2                                    C
An endless night I didn't know I'd chosen - And then I finally awoke
D2                                    F                    G                    D2 | D2
What I had heard is not what they had said
D2                                    F                    G                    D2                                    C
There will never be easy answers - But there can always be hope
D2                                    F                    G                    E-7                    D/F#                    G                    A
The darkness makes the light much brighter now I know -----

Chorus 3

D2                    Asus                    B-                    G                    D                    Asus                                    B- | C
There's a life I been dreaming of, there's much more in store
D2                    Asus                    B-                    G                    D                    Asus                                    C G/B                    C G/B                    C G/B                    C                    D2
Of the life I've been dreaming of, that life could be yours,
D2                    Asus                    B-                    G                    D                    Asus                                    B- | C
There's a life we're all dreaming of, there's much more in store
D2                    Asus                    B-                    G                    D                    Asus                                    ||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :||
Of the life I've been dreaming of, that life could be yours,

Outtro

||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :||: D2 D2/C | G/B D :|| G D/F#                    G D/F#                    | D
Oh...                                    oh...